I am disappointed that despite the on-going discussions concerning upgrading or rebuilding the golf course pro shop that no real progress has been made. The facility needs to be updated and the monies generated within the golf course need to stay in the golf course and not used to support activities that are unable to generate revenue. I enjoy playing there and for the most part buy all my equipment from the pro shop. The staff is friendly and courteous and do the best with what they have. However, the infrastructure is aging, for example the pro shop, the irrigation system and should be replaced. There is a plan in place for replacement capital equipment, for example lawn mowers, golf carts, etc... but the majority of the monies allocated back to the course go to pay for these items. I would like to see some additional monies earmarked for infrastructure projects that would improve the "curb appeal" of the course.

The greatest overall problem here at Fort Leavenworth is the cost of services. We have been seeking an answer to where our $30.00 per child goes when they (x3) play soccer, baseball or whatever. The coaches and refs are volunteers; the facilities are owned by post and are upkept anyway (grass cutting). The general consensus among the students who rotate in and out of CGSC is that the post is "milking" them because they are a captive audience. The post also has the gaul to charge for pool usage during both the winter and the summer.

I think more Army Posts should have a flying club. The Flying Club at Fort Leavenworth should have more modern airplanes for club members. I believe a more modern movie theater would attract more people. Keep the gyms modern and well equipped. Make posts more bicycle friendly by building small paved bike trails that either bypass major intersections or go over/under roads. Keep bike / running paths separate from vehicle traffic.

When I was here as a student in 1994, Fort Leavenworth had a world class wood working shop and automotive repair shop, that could be used by military folks to build furniture, fix their own vehicles, etc. When I returned in 2001, these facilities were gone...dismantled due to funding and shortsightedness. These facilities should be replaced. It is important to people that have seen war to be able to find time and facilities for a little quiet time, doing a task that they love, and that relaxes them. Woodworking and automotive repair are two such activities that most military members use to relax and have private time. These facilities would also save military members money and time. Additionally, it would allow soldiers that don't have a lot of money to spend in the first place a way to conserve what they get.

The RV lot on Fort Leavenworth is adequate, barely. If it were upgraded the following priorities for upgrade would be beneficial to all that pay for a space in the RV lot: (1) electrical outlets so that we can keep camper and boat batteries charged without bringing the RV/boat (or taking out the batteries) to our quarters to do so, (2) a wash facility near the RV lot designed for boats and RVs, and (3) some type of cover for the spaces to help keep the summer sun and occasional hail from damaging our vehicles.

The FCC is a travesty. We need an officers club, with a pool, and dining facilities. On a post with this many officers, of high grade, their is absolutely no excuse for an O-Club to not make money - unless the management is worthless.

My chief complaint with the MWR system is that it has become a welfare system designed to provide lower enlisted with all of the benefits and charging everyone else more to compensate.

Because I have worked hard through my life I am being penalized in comparison to anyone else in order to pay for an event or my childcare. This is absolutely ridiculous. It certainly does not cost more for my kids to receive the same care as any other child yet I am charged considerably more since I chose to not have a large family and live within my means not relying on everyone else to provide for me. If you want me to come back then get rid of the unequal and quite unfair scales where those who work hard to get ahead in order to make more money, simply fall behind with all of the increased costs associated with getting ahead.

On post golfing greens fees are expensive and the the price for a bucket of range balls (about three dollars) is too high.

The Fort Leavenworth ball fields are all very good and well maintained.

The crafts center is a very good facility and the folks that work there are all very helpful and friendly.

CARL is awesome not only for CGSC/SAMS students, but for families as well.

The hancock outdoor pool is always clean and in good condition, but the locker room is in poor shape.

The fee for use of the outdoor pool is too high ($2.75 per person).

MWR at Fort Leavenworth is the worst run program I have been exposed to in more than 13 years. In my opinion, MWR takes advantage of the large audience of field grade officers on-hand for CGSC by charging more money for activities than other MWR facilities I have used. The increase in price did not correlate to better quality or quantity, so the perception is that the officers here are subsidizing activities that primarily support permanent party personnel. Prices should not be determined based on the income of the patrons - it should be based on the quality of product.

It is my considered opinion that the vast majority of soldiers truly enjoy shooting sports. Not just trap and skeet, but individual and competitive rifle and pistol shooting, and in teams as well. Military installations, including Fort Leavenworth, have space for the type of range facilities necessary to support these sports. And, despite the overall ignorance of American media towards shooting sports, the Olympic games include a wide variety of individual and team shooting competitions. As long as I live, I will never understand what a soldier is going to learn about how to stay alive, on a golf course. Considering the overall percentage of soldiers (especially enlisted soldiers) who play golf is nearly nothing. And the vast majority of officers don't play golf either. Yet, every post I've visited in 22 years has a golf course, catering to a hobby held by few, and really valuable to none. I think it's simply ridiculous. If I were King for a Day, my first official act would be to ban golf from every military installation in the Department of Defense.

How much of a "bang for the buck" does Fort Leavenworth get out of the Fox Hunt Club? Their use of the training area on Fort Leavenworth precludes the use of the trails in the area by anyone else. The horses do serious environmental damage to the trails on post, often turning them into quagmires and mosquito breeding grounds. This damage makes it difficult to impossible for people who would like to mountain bike, hike, or run on these trails. My perception-the Hunt Club on post is composed primarily of high ranking active duty members and retirees that have settled in the area- a very small proportion of the total post population. Another perception-the Hunt Club is perceived by various agencies on post as a group that is very powerful and not to be messed with. I personally, along with other volunteers, tried to establish and maintain a multi-use corridor for mountain bike use, running, and hiking on Fort Leavenworth for two years, and was successful for one year, but due to lack of support/interest by MWR and other post personnel, and unrestricted, unmanaged use and damage of the trails on post by the Hunt Club, I gave up trying to maintain the trail. I was told not to create new trails, yet the Hunt Club seems to be able to create new, and environmentally unsound trails at will. I talked personally to Mr Nowak, and MWR/Outdoor Rec a number of times to try and formalize the trail, and was told about committees and decisions that would need to be made. I said fine and asked to be contacted--it NEVER happened. So, we have what I perceive to be a relatively small interest group, along with indifference by agencies on post to DO or CHANGE anything--a recreational opportunity for probably a larger overall audience on Fort Leavenworth lost. At one point, I had race promoters interested in running mountain bike, adventure, and/or duathlon races on the trail. When the trail became too damaged I told them it wasn't worth it. Another loss for the post of income, community good-will, and some relatively exciting sporting events for the post population and local community. These are people that would have asked for nothing more than land and facilities. From my view it would have been and win-win for everyone.

In an attempt to legitimize the trail through other channels, I offered to lead some form of program for Youth Services that would allow teenagers to ride the trails on post with an adult as well as go to area trails off-post to ride, and even chaperone to local bike races. I went to the YS THREE TIMES with this offer, was never able to meet a decision maker, and was never contacted. No follow-up, no attempt to assess interest among the kids.

Other gripes: No automotive shop on Fort Leavenworth is unacceptable.

SUGGESTIONS:

--Fort Leavenworth is a beautiful post. A 10-15 mile multi-use corridor, exclusive of horse use, and environmentally sound and sustainable, should be established and maintained for the benefit of mountain bikers, runners, and hikers. It does not need to be paved and could probably be sustained by volunteers with some resourcing from post agencies. We can have a skate park on post, but not a decent dirt trail, seems ridiculous to me.

--Open an auto crafts shop.

Pool Hours- Indoor lap swimming hours are too short during weekdays, weekends and all evenings (i.e. NONE). Too many closures of the pool for various reasons.

Outdoor Pools- Ladders to the high-dive diving boards are dangerously slippery and steep. 5 x kids were injured last summer at Hancock pool alone due to falls off of a single ladder. I know first hand that two were transported to the emergency room via ambulance for x-rays and other treatment (one was my son and the other a friends' child). I do not know about the other 3 children only that three other falls occurred. The cost of medical treatment for the two cases I have firsthand knowledge of were in excess of $1,000 EACH (we got the Tri-care bills)! Seems we could spend a $1,000 to either install padding, a staircase type ladder (i.e. more angled) or at least non-slip handrails and steps. I hesitate to bring this up since the typical Army response is eliminate the hazard entirely by either closing the board or banning children of a certain age from using the high dive. These are not needed; what is required is a better ladder system.

The wrestling program here at Leavenworth is awesome!!! The new mats were terrific. Great job on that one.

I think the driving range is way too pricey ($3.50 for 40 or so golf balls?). I took my kids up there for less than an hour and it cost $14.00 (4 x $3.50)! I was recently in suburban Chicago and it was less than that. $2.00 or $2.50 is fair, but $3.50 is out of control.

My liesure hours are reduced due to the fact that the post grounds/maintenance folks do not mow the common areas in Oregon Village. I'm getting tired of mowing the field behind my house so my kids have a place to play.

My name is MAJ Dave King, I live on post and I am willing to discuss any of these issues at length... david.king4@us.army.mil

Not having an automotive shop and car washing facilities on post is absolutely ridiculous. It is also difficult to even wash your vehicles in the housing areas!! This is especially important for single soldiers and for permanent party soldiers. A soldier cannot even change his own oil on this post!!

Most posts do not charge for storage of RVs, trailers, etc. It is not right to make parking your trailer or RV in an on-post storage facility (poorly maintained as well), and then charge soldiers for it. Most individuals who live in the new housing areas park trailers and RVs in their driveways, but this is not available for those living in the older quarters and parking in non-designated spots on-post are not enforced.

Outdoor recreation is non-existent here also. No place to rent hiking, biking or skiing gear when those activities are available within proximity of this installation.

MWR on this facility does not look after the soldier. It is evident this MWR is strictly out to take advantage of it's position on this installation...

I feel that on this post if you are an officer you are treated better. They look at the enlisted as subservants. They need to realize that we are dying for the country also. Plus if there wasn't enlisted to do the dirty work the officers would not know what to do.

I am an avid golfer and am very discouraged with the on-post golf course. I feel the prices are too high. I have not played golf on post in over a year. I really like the on-post golf course but do not wish to play there due to cost.

More opportunities for family members need to be available at a lower cost. My family does not use the facilities on post (fitness centers, pools, youth facilities) because they cost too much. I don't think family members (dependents) should have to pay to use the facilities. I pay less at off post facilities for a higher quality facility with better hours.

I would not recommend the restaurants on post. I have eaten at each on more than one occasion and have not been satisfied. I have filled out comment cards regarding my concerns. I have never been contacted nor have I seen a change in service. I either bring my lunch from home or eat at AAFES vendors. Generally, service is slow, the food is overpriced and the facilities are not comfortable (too cold).

Overall, I am very disappointed in the lack of MWR oppurtinities on post.

Fort Leavenworth offers a great deal for families. We were most active in youth sports (both coaching and our son participating) but the organization and initiative displayed by the administrators was terrible. Completely unorganized, services were over-priced, and quality of shirts, trophies, etc were pitiful.

There are some hard working personnel on post, but for the most part they are unhelpful and lazy. Gruber Gym (specifically) has employees who barely speak English, never offer help, and rarely leave the office. Unfortunately that trend is starting to spread across post (both here and at other posts that I have been assigned to).

Club services are also over-priced, especially for what they offer in food quality and service.

Frustrated w/ EFMP, coordinator on post is only available during morning hours (08 - 1200hrs)want to address my concerns / frustration with EFMP but unable to coordinate my schedule with EFMP's limited availability. EFMP issues via ACS on post are not kept confidential; during my inprocessing the ACS coordinator was too prying of an individual in asking me questions about EFMP and my family member. I took objection to this type of treatment; certainly left me with my first impression of EFMP on Ft Leavenworth.

Disappointed and not satisfied with answer I received from Garrison Command on why this installation does not have an auto craft shop; to the best of my knowledge the only medium-sized Army installation in CONUS that does not have on. As I had mentioned in my comments to the Garrison Command, I now understand why some on-post personnel are during vehicle maintenance at their quarters. This is a safety / environmental issue, are Soldiers using proper lifting devices, jack stands, etc. Where is the waste oil, dirty oil filter and antifreeze, being disposed of? Where can a young Soldier with a family on a limited budget go for technical help in fixing their single mode of transportation, unfortunately not here on Post - what a shame.

Gruber Gym on post needs to improved. They will be running two CGSC classes at a time starting in FEB. So the post will be doubled in students. The Gym doesn't have enough treadmills to support this. Also I think the GYM should have priority times for Military member in uniform from 0630 to 0730 in the morning. You can't get on them with all the spouses and retired people. Please look into.

Judo Jacks is great. My son has really enjoyed it.
More gymnastics classes should be offered, and parents should be allowed to take pictures of their children during classes.
Swimming lessons are very good. Paul is a good teacher.

The CGSC/MWR triathlon was well organized, but it needed more medals for the kids try-athlon. We paid $20 for our kids to compete, and they didn't get a t-shirt or a medal because they ran out of both. The medal was a big deal to them, and they were very upset when they finished and didn't get one.

This post could use an outdoor rec. We had to put all of our camping stuff in storage to fit into these tiny quarters, and would have appreciated them available to rent. We also would have rented an RV

As I understand it, some MWR services are offered to Contractors, while others are not. I think I just need to go over to MWR and find out what other activities I'm interested in are available to me.

The more that ARE offered to contractors, the more community involvement and interaction from non-military will be strengthened. Even if a surcharge for contractors is required, that would (I think) be easy to swallow by most contractors if the price, quality and selection were still competitive to non-MWR.

It would be nice if you could plan some fishing trips, maybe to the great lakes, the lake of the Ozarks, a fishing charter in the Gulf of Mexico, or even to the local lakes in Kansas.

MWR really needs to give money to the Combined Arms Research Library solely for the purchase of books and movies that a normal post library would purchase for everyday soldiers and their families. Currently the CARL must buy these kinds of things with CGSC funds. MWR needs to be footing this bill, lots of families use the library.

We need to re-establish a woodworking facility with good air-handling capabilities for environmental safety and personal health.

We need more high quality physical fitness classes, specifically yoga, e.g. taught by "technical grade" instructors like you find in the city at professional yoga studios.

We need to improve the natural resources-based recreational areas, e.g., improve the road access to outlying areas and install field (drinking) water points for safety. The "phantom" bicycle trails and horse trails need to be GPS'd and included as a GIS layer on maps that can made available to potential users.

We need a "conservation fee" to be charged to users of the natural resources to enable a better fishing program through feeding, e.g.

Not all posts are the same and this one is no exception. It lacks in so many areas. There are not enough activities for adults and children. Some examples for the adults would be woodshop activities, since not all the soliders have woodworking equipment, also car repair (changing oil) would be helpful not only to the soldiers but also for the wives as many soldiers are deployed and basic mechanics would be a benefit. As far as clubs, there needs to be more activies for those people who work. Most club activities are during the week and during the daytime hours, which does not help those working families. The children's activities such as sports are a great outlet for them. However, there is no outlet for the adults. The movie theater is limited and the latest movies take forever to get here. Also, there should be a 99 cent movie night during the week, not just have the movies on the weekends. There should be specials during the week for all activities, bowling, movies, golf and add to the activities sports such as volleyball leagues, softball leagues for night time, especially during the summer. Volleyball can go all year long in the gym. You could have volunteers to referee the games. This location has so much potential and when inclement weather occurs, everyone wants to do something on post, however, all you can do is go to the shoppette and rent a movie. Get the woodworking, car repair, more arts and crafts, sports (volleyball) during the evening hours and have 99 cent night.

I am not really a good one to judge this program. I live far enough away that I wouldnot come back to the Fort for the services. My family is established and most of our activities surround them. Don't put much weight on my responses. I am sure these services are very valuable to the soldiers and their families that are stationed here. And that is who they should be directed towards.

I no longer have young children, so I answered this survey based on my status and interests today; however, when my children were young - the programs offered for children were invaluable to me and were certainly part of what I considered a "benefits package" when I considered alternate employment opportunities outside the Army. Please continue to place emphasis on youth programs.

Gruber Gym is great - when you can get on the equipment. It is unfortunate that everyone on post must take their lunch break at the same time. More equipment would be so nice!!!

The Fort Leavenworth Golf Course is a black hole that drains the profits of the other NAF activities, thereby preventing them from making their already outstanding service even better. The Rod and Gun Club, a NAF activity that is COMPLETELY operated by volunteers, and has a proven record of turning back an average of more than 40% above its budgeted profit each year, only receives mention for its kennel activities. There is nothing in the survey about the numerous youth activities that the club sponsors through-out the year.

The skeet range is an adequate facility with excellent management. Outdoor recreation on this post receives token support from MWR upper level managers at best. They see no profit therefore they see no need to manage these areas or activities. As such, this post is overrun with poachers of large game and turkey, unauthorized individuals that destroy trees and other vital habitat and people that blatantly ignore the published post policies on the use of outdoor recreation areas. All because there is no one to enforce the commander's policies and directives.

Bottom line, the senior civilian managers of the MWR programs on Fort Leavenworth have surrounded themselves with multiple layers of unneeded supervision that perpetuate the doctrine of PROFIT before all else. The majority of the enlisted families on this post cannot afford to use the extremely limited MWR opportunities that are here.

This post does no service to the members of this community unless there is a profit. That means there is NO benefit to the average enlisted soldier.

For the most part, the facilities are decent at Fort Leavenworth. They do the best that they can within the physical constraints of the post. My main complaint are some of the people who work in the facilities, and most pointedly, the Golf Course (not including the food/beverage area). They tend to be condescending and do not care about you if you are not the right rank, retired or otherwise.

I feel that my answers may not reflect correctly as I have not been able to use most of the facilities. When I was stationed here 10 tens ago, I used the MWR Outdoor Rec services such as pontoon boat rental and camping related services. As I understand, this no longer is available. This installtion has a high turnover rate inherent to it's operation and therefore should afford higher than usual accessability to services because the majority of the personnel do not bring or have the "stuff" to take avantage of the area activities such as camping and boating.

Spend way too much effort and particularly money on activities that are not supported and never cover the cost of the program just because they always have had the program and have them at every location across the Army. Leavenworth is a unique installation demographically and programs should be geared to that fact. Drop the junk that doesn't make sense. Cut the extensive overhead and focus on getting quality caring staff at the facilities where the customers are.

Having the Officers Club in the Frontier Conference Center is a very bad idea. The facility is nice but it is like being in a cave. Many generations of Officers passed through CAS3 and CGSC and hung out at the Havana Beach Club. Great place to play volley ball and drink a few beers. The Havanh Beach Club became part of our memeories and history of Fort Leavenworth. No one want to go to the cave (Officers Club) at the Frontier Conference Center. Officers will go off post before they go there. I recommend that the Havanah Beach Club be re-opened so we have a place to go on Post.

I feel like a second-class citizen at Fort Leavenworth Golf Course. Policies on tee times give military retirees the same status as civilian employees. I recognize that Active Duty personnel deserve a priority, but, I feel like the sacrifices and service retirees have made are recognized. A large number of retirees have dropped their annual memberships at the Fort Leavenworth Golf Course because of a poorly maintained golf course (greens, tee boxes and fairways), substantially increased fees, and the current policies that do not recognize military retirees for their service.

The loss of wood working shop and automotive repair had a tremendous negative impact on my quality of life. I do not have the tools, space, or capability to do those at home and regret the loss of those activities. At one time, I made extensive use of outdoor recreation; however, that facility does not exist here. I now no longer have the opportunity to take advantage of outdoor recreation unless I purchase the items myself. I can tell you right now that I'm not going to buy a canoe, jet-ski, or other items that I used to rent from outdoor recreation, so I don't go now. The golf course and bowling facilities are most excellent, though I no longer golf or bowl.

There is no entertainment of value here. The "Comedy Club", though a good idea, does not bring in appropriate or even amusing talent. Their performances really don't meet the audience and I have stopped attending because I don't find them funny. The only other entertainment here are the service bands or shows that tour various military facilities. That may be nice but it really doesn't rate as top level entertainment. There is not restaurant on this post except for fast food and sandwiches. That is most unsatisfactory. It would be nice to have a concert or two here, but they should be at a time when all the students are here to ensure maximum participation. June and July are not good times to schedule these events.

There is not value added for the officer and NCO "clubs" here. There is no entertainment or reason to go. The FCC provides and expensive facility to host events; however, it doesn't add value to the quality of life here from an entertainment perspective. There are no dinners, dances, or other entertainment options provided to the community.

The Fourth of July celebration is a very good operation and should be continued.

I don't think there is an effort to provide services to the retirees. From lack of quality items in the PX to the lack of Medical Services for non-active duty, this post is toatally focused on the students and soldiers. Some would argue that is how it should be. And if so, why send surveys to us retirees? The clubs used to be a draw. But you have to have great service, food, and environment. This club has none of these. If I want to go somewhere nice to eat I go into Kansas City. The only things we use at the Fort is the vet clinic, the class VI store, some things at the PX, and the commissary.

Fort Leavenworth MWR is over-staffed with over-paid people who have no military experience. We've lost all the great attractions that made Fort Leavenworth a great post to be assigned to when I first arrived. There is a perception that the MWR cares more about its positions than the military families. We used to have great facilities. We've lost the photo lab, framing shop, wood working shop and auto craft shop. I used all of these. The excuse used by our MWR is that they cost too much. We offered solutions such as volunteer staffing but that meant no money for the MWR staff so they were turned-down. They then invented fees for parking horse trailers at the stables with no reciprocal service. In other words, my trailer had been parked there for years with no security, no lighting on an asphalt street stand that all of a sudden required us to pay MWR for nothing in return. It wasn't MWR property but a common Army parking lot. Rip off. The MWR personnel are not helpful but are bureaucrats looking to stuff their pockets. I grew up in the Army and MWR used to be a family-friendly organization offering services a a decent price. They used to be a "good deal". Now I go elsewhere as their prices and services are not competitive. Too bad. Part of the problem is it is not run by soldiers or veterans for the soldiers. It's a money-grubbing outfit and has a bloated self-serving staff. I am not an advocate of their organization and my frustration with them is commonly shared by others who knew how it used to be. I take my business elsewhere.

MWR seems to make it difficult on this post and others for organizations, i.e. Spouses' Club, to advertise their events which to a large extent are open to the general public and are raising monies to give back to the military and surrounding communities serving military members and their families. While services offered by MWR are certainly intended to help serve families and make the experience of army life more enjoyable, it seems that the administrators at MWR 'headquarters' on posts are often operating in ways that hinder participation b/c their 'control' of all things that go on on post is so overwhelming; thus making the very members they are charged with helping feel limited. A HUGE Concern of mine that was not really addressed by the survey:

Also, not sure if it is MWR or DCA who actually set the Child Development Fees for hourly care and part-day preschool but the fees on Fort Leavenworth are absolutely outrageous. We came from Fort Riley where as an O4 we paid 52.50 a month for our daughter to attend two-day a week half day preschool. The exact same program rate when we arrived at Fort Leavenworth was 108 a month. I inquired with the director and was referred to Youth Services. They explained that they have the 'option' of charging along a continuum of fees that the army sets. Further, it was explained that Ft Leavenworth decides to charge at the high end of allowable fees. Considering the large number of O4/O5's on this post and the short stays for CGSC, it really seems opportunistic to me that they would charge so much when other posts do not. The quality of the program here was questionable to me also since there were 40 kids with 4 teachers in my daughter's class on Ft Leavenworth vs 18 kids and 2 teachers at Fort Riley where the fees were significantly lower. Our money obviously was not going toward smaller class sizes and teacher to student ratios. While we were able to pay the $108 and let our child attend, I have to wonder what sort of a burden the decision to charge higher end fees had on other families with several children or even on the enlisted soldiers on this post. It could mean the difference between enrolling a child or not. You may contact me about this concern or forward it to the appropriate person and have them contact me at 913-651-7762. Thank you for the space to comment and for the opportunity to complete the survey. Stacy TYler

Why is scouting not a part of the MWR. It is very noticeable that Rank has it's privileges at Ft. Leavenworth. It was only this year that the Golf Course has offered specials for the Enlisted, and yet is only on specific week-ends. CGSOC and CAS3 are always offered specials both when arriving and upon departure and throughout the acedemic year. It is a shame that the permanent party personnel, especially the enlisted who are the "Back Bone" of this installation are considered 2nd rate citizens. My spouse is educated as am I, but you can see how Officer spouses are trained to look down at the enlisted ranks. The MWR at Ft. Leavenworth has played the same game as before, specials only for the Students arriving. This survey will not change anything as all Army surveys have shown.

There is a need for a stronger focus on preserving and updating the stable area. This is a very historical building, and appears to be one of the last buildings still being used for it's original purpose. The method and practices for maintenance/improvements in the facility don't follow a quality code, or a uniformity code. This building would be better preserved, safer, and more attractive simply by establishing a required quality of repairs. The stalls should be a uniform structure throughout the barns, not a haphazard nailing of whatever boards could be found at the moment. The buildings are at a turning point - with an organized plan of maintenance, the facility could blossom. Without establishing a standard for acceptable repairs, the facility will continue to deteriorate and will ultimately cost a lot more money to repair.

When we were looking to join a golf club we were told our children were not welcome by the starter on post. By the time the problem was looked into we had chosen an off post facility with much more to offer.

Tax assistance was horrible. Not enough people and lack of knowledge from the only person at the office.

Over all I was disappointed with the cost of childrens activities on post. I have a difficult time with you charging us "rent" to use the piano for piano lessons. The fees charged by Youth Services to "provide service" and enroll in each program are higher than I can get off post.

We tried to use lesiure travel;however there is only one knowledgeable person that is not available during regular office hours. That person is slow to return calls and follow up on things promised. We found better prices with cruise company, better customer service, and fewer add on charges (ie fees for booking, ect)

Overall I have not had a good experiance using the services provided at this post and probably will not seek to use them at any futher post due to experiances here.

I think AFTB is a wonderful program, even though I have not participated at this post. ACS offers many useful and helpful programs for families and soldiers-although at this post we have not needed their services. I would like to see these programs continued and supported to grow with our Army's changing needs.

I also have enjoyed the library system at Leavenworth and other Posts. Please keep up the good work on these facilities. I have found the staff very knowledgable, courteous, and helpful.

Thank you for this opportunity.

A lot of the programs for children are not set up for families where both parents work fulltime. For example, swimming lessons for beginning swimmers are mostly in the middle of the day in the summertime. Yes the kids are out of school but mom and dad are still at work.

There is to much turn over at the CDC. When a provider leaves, it takes too long for a permanent provider to come in. When the team leader leaves most of time the assistant takes over and they are not trained as well and are not prepared to lead the room. Some classrooms have amazing leaders and some rooms have providers that you can tell are there to get paid and are not interest in interacting with parents or have a true love of children. Some providers could care less if a child is going through a tough time because one parent is deployed. They just want the kids to behave and don't seem to want to cut the child any slack. It would be nice to be able to choose the room and the teacher. I would even being willing to pay more for better teachers.

Daycare, either School Age Services or CDC - I use both, I will never be able to accept the different pay schedules. Burger Kings doesn't ask how much you earn to include your's spouse's income, before they tell you how much your Whopper is going to cost. My husband and I waited to have children, so that we would be able to "afford" them. I don't see why we have to suffer for someone elses life choice. I realize that younger soldiers cannot afford descent child care, but maybe single parent families shouldn't be in the military. Or congress should subsidies them. ($400 per mth compared to $120 per mth is quite a difference.) Some of the female soldiers I know are receiving child support from their "babies Daddy" (these figures are not used to equate their payments, but my husband won't support my children when it comes to daycare and his LES is used. If I can't make the daycare payment, he doesn't want me to work, which makes sense. So I have been lucky enough to find descent jobs that allow me to afford daycare and still have some spending money.

As for the daycare providers - they are always top notch, but don't stay because they don't earn enough money. So where do the yearly increase go?

I am thankful for the MWR programs on post. Although we haven't used them here we used them a great deal in Germany and we LOVED it. The only problem I ever have the MWR is that many time the people working in the facilities act as if I am doing something wrong to take advantage of the different programs. It doesn't always happen but it is frustrating when it does. Please keep up the very imoportant work you do.

In the seventeen years that I have been affiliated with the military, this is one of the few times that I have not lived on post. Because I live in a different community, I tend to do things off post; however, I would normally use the facilities on post much more than have been reflected in this survey. I have been very pleased with MWR in the past, and I think that it greatly contributes to the quality of life for military families. We are headed to Germany, and I am sure that we will take full advantage of the facilities over there.

It would be nice if this post offered a FREE storage lot for soldiers since parking on post is VERY INADEQUATE and if you have more than 2 vehicles, you have to pay to store one! Also, my husband is very mechanically inclined. However, there is no place on this post that offers soldiers to work on their cars (ie. change oil, rotate tires, etc.) nor is there anywhere to wash vehicles. The "Lemon Lot" is too restrictive (in my opinion). There was nowhere for my husband to sell his trailer on this post. Also, there is nowhere on post to advertise a vehicle if you are trying to sell it.

Really wish the swimming lessons on Fort Leavenworth would improve. Don't think there is any quality control - are the methods actually working to teach children how to swim? Wound up going off base but think it could happen here.

My husband and I would go out with friends on base, where we could walk to and fro - but there is absolutely nothing to do. Would be nice to have a nice club to attend and socialize with neighbors.

Thought the parent's night out here was exceptional. Please continue.

Retention in the military is a problem and I think if recruiters could inform young men and women about the wonderful benefits, this problem would cease to exist.

I don't really use MWR facilities except for the gym. BUt to tak ethem away from single soldiers and families who need these types of activities would be very bad for soldier and family morale. Fort Leavenworth is a unique post in that we have a lot of retirees and civilians. But that shouldn't punish the families who are here. Thank you for the survey.

We have had an ongoing problem with pool services. Grant Pool is a wonderful, centrally located pool for those living in the historic section of Ft. Leavenworth. Yet, it is always targeted by MWR to close early and open late each year. Need to work on this problem. We have always enjoyed the 4th of July activities offered here. Would love it if there were more outdoor concerts of the family type offered in the summer.

The number one thing that I feel this post could improve on is the youth sports program. My husband and I feel like because of the CGSC schedule here at Fort Leavenworth, the sports programs run too short. We were at Fort Stewart Ga before and they have an awesome sports program, they hold tournaments, participate in local and statewide all star tournaments and lots of other fun things. They report standings and pictures to the post newspaper. The sports fields and bleachers here are terrible and there are too few baseball feilds especially. Here we pay 35.00 per child for six games of baseball or six basketball games. There are no paid officials or referees yet at Fort Stewart we paid 20.00 and had great facilities as well as paid referees and officials. We believe that the potential is there but for some reason the program here just isn't going anywhere. We want our kids to have the saem opportunities in sports as they would living in a regular city and here that just isn't happening. Our boys play soccer, basketball, football and basketball and they have both expressed their dissapointment in the program here compared to Fort Stewart.

There are lots of things we are happy with here too, the hotel is great and we greatly appreciated the facilities the two weeks we had to live there waiting on housing. Also my husband and boys love the challenging golf course here. I take my daughter to the hourly care here on post and can't say enough about how nice the ladies are who work there, they are very attentive to the children and I hold them in the highest regard. We don't know if the playgrounds here are MWR but we love them, they are great and really have something for all the kids ages. My sons love the skate park and were very sad when they shut it down but we understood why that had to be done, the few times we took our boys we were appaied at the language the older teens were using and had to speak with them.

Thanks for giving us the opportunity to express our opinions of your program!
